White clover is remarkably abundant this year, which is good for the bee-keeper and the pastures. That's what makes a land of milk and honey, too.

During the past year Hamilton College has rolled 295 students from sixteen states and two foreign countries, the number of day students being 147 and boarders 148.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Lee have returned from their wedding trip and have settled in their suite in the Palace Hotel, Cincinnati, where Mr. Lee is resident manager.

At the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Kentucky Conference at Carlisle the past week Miss Louise Best of this city was elected Editor of the Foreign Missionary column in The Central Methodist. Mrs. C. W. Durham of Moorefield was elected Secretary of the Maysville District.

THE LEDGER Saturday last briefly noted the fact that Mr. Millard Merz had won his suit in the Fleming Circuit Court, which involved the question of peddler's license collected by the city. The case went to the Court of Appeals on demurrer and the City of Flemingsburg won its point there, which was to the effect that such licenses could be collected by the city from persons selling and delivering goods there as peddlers. The case then came back to the Fleming Circuit Court, and was tried Friday last on its merits, with the result that Mr. Merz was acquitted, as the Court held he was not a mere temporary resident or a peddler, but was selling goods from sample and that he had a right to do so.

A DELUGE

Of Rain, But No Danger of a Big Flood

There is no need of becoming alarmed at the spurt now on in the Ohio river. The rise in the past few days has been somewhat rapid and there is considerable water from above yet to come that will increase the swell, it is true, but there is plenty of room for expansion before we are menaced with another flood.

Two floods in one year in quick succession at that, is about all that's due us in one twelve months; then June is not noted for high water. Only once in half a century—to be exact, June 16th, 1858—has the river ever attained a stage out of the ordinary, and then it only reached 43 9 feet.

The river this morning is 30.3 feet and rising, and may go beyond 40 feet before reaching its limit, quite sufficient to cause a great deal of damage in the lowlands and bottoms that have been filled and seed planted.

August 6th, 1875, there was a flood tide in the Ohio that reached a stage of 55.5 feet, something that has occurred only once in 75 years and may never be repeated. As above stated there is no need to be alarmed about a flood.

MEDICAL SOCIETY

Holds Interesting Meeting—Dr. McCormick to Lecture in Maysville

The County Medical Society, which is in association with the National Medical Society, had its monthly meeting at the Council Chamber yesterday afternoon.

There was the usual attendance and the chief subject of discourse was Dr. H. K. Adamson's report of the recent meeting of the proceedings at Atlantic City.

Dr. McCormick, the able organizer of the medical profession of the United States, has announced his intention of visiting Mason county in a few days and give the Society here an account of the admirable work he has been doing in the Northwest.

It is to be hoped he will receive his usual hearty welcome on that occasion.

Every active and progressive practitioner in the county owes it to himself, his profession and the community, to be present on that occasion. Dr. McCormick is an able, practical and persuasive speaker.

MISS BARBOUR'S RECITAL

Maysville's Gifted Pianist Receives An Ovation at Washington Opera-house

The world is ever ready and willing and considers it a duty as well as a pleasure to take off its hat and make its best obeisance to talent and genius, wherever found.

Last evening at the Washington Theater, and before an audience of 200 persons, composed of the foremost music lovers of Maysville and scores of the young artist's friends, Miss Elizabeth Graham Barbour, Maysville's gifted pianist, met with an ovation and had the stamp of public approval put upon her talent as an artistic genius and mistress of the pianoforte.

The handsome opera-house, ablaze with light, the gayly and fashionably dressed audience, together with the flower-decked stage, with the beautiful and picturesque settings, made a charming frame for the fair and queenly musician, whom Maysville delights to honor and recognizes as an artist of whom everyone in her native city can well feel proud.

Of the artistic mastery displayed by Miss Barbour, on her chosen instrument, we must let others besides ourselves also judge. But her execution being so charming and her delicate touch so faultless, it appears to the writer that her performance could not have been improved upon. The magic skill of her finished digital manipulation of the keys, together with the perfect ease, grace and composure, characterizing the true artist and musician, all combined to make her debut as a star pianist a distinct and a notable success.

Every number of the difficult program was faultlessly and charmingly rendered, and the finale of each rondeau met with hearty applause and numerous encores.

Following was Miss Barbour's program—Sonata op. 7—Allegro (Moderato; Andante Molto; Alla Minuetto; Molto Allegro). . . . Grieg

Although R. A. Carr has withdrawn from the coal firm of G. W. McDaniel & Co., he will still conduct his coal business at his yard on Fourth street, and at the Coal Elevators on Limestone street. The facilities for handling the choicest grades of Kanawha and Pomeroy Coal, as well as New River Smokeless Anthracite and etc., are of the very best. The public is assured that their orders shall have prompt attention, and owing to the several grades of coal which are at all times carried in stock, the requirements of each can be quickly satisfied.

Alice Kate Thomson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Thomson of Ripley, was married Thursday last at Charleston, W. Va., to Mr. Walter D. Magruder of Vicksburg, Miss. The groom is in the Government employ as Inspector of barges being built at the Levanna boatyard. The bride is one of Ripley's best known young ladies.

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Pursuant to the directions of the party authorities, the Republicans of Mason county are called to meet in mass convention at the Courthouse in Maysville on Saturday afternoon, June 15th, at 1:30 o'clock, standard time, for the purpose of selecting delegates to the State Convention to be held in Louisville, June 19th, which State Convention is to nominate a Republican state ticket to be voted for at the coming November election. Mason county is entitled to 20 votes in the State Convention.

WINTER'S,

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS

Deny That Tobacco Report—Never Declared That Brown Paper Was Being Used

A few days ago THE LEDGER published an article from an exchange, alleging all kinds of adulteration by certain tobacco factories. The item seems to be a fake, and in order to do justice to the maligned we take pleasure in stating that Dr. Harvey the United States Pure Food Commission, Edward K. Slater, commissioner of the Minnesota Pure Food department, have authorized the press of the country to deny for them an alleged news story, which originated in North Dakota and which was widely copied, to the effect that several brands of tobacco, among them English Curve Cut, Duke's Mixture and Bull Durham, had been analyzed by them and had been found to contain only from 10 to 40 per cent of tobacco, the balance of the mixture being brown paper, which had been saturated in tobacco juice.

The report was so sensational that many papers copied the item, and now the American Tobacco Company is trying to find out who started the libel.

Dr. Harvey and Commissioner Slater both deny that they ever made such analysis, and that the articles were entirely groundless, so far as their knowledge goes.

The tobacco company which was accused of palming off brown paper on the lovers of the weed, attribute the original publication to spite.

The only way to account for it is to charge it up to the weather, but it is an undeniable fact that the past ten days have been exceedingly dull ones, so far as merchandising is concerned. Notwithstanding Maysville merchants are exposing the largest, most select and hand-somest stocks, and counters piled high with tempting bargains, trade as above stated has been nil and the clerks have been standing idly around chewing wax and swapping compliments.

HER ABLE ASSISTANCE

The young man in the painfully new suit gazed admiringly at the young woman whose immaculate lingerie waist and elaborately done up hair bore witness to the fact that his call had been expected. He was so shy, however, that he removed his gaze from her face quickly whenever she looked at him.

"No," she was saying, "Clara may be a nice girl and all that and some people think she is pretty and of course she is popular in a way, but I'd rather be unnoticed and plain-looking as I am if I had to be as heartless and selfish as she has shown herself to be!"

The young man saw an opening, but his shyness hampered him. "Plain!" he repeated. "Why, nobody could call you that!"

The young woman looked as if he had fallen short of what he might have said, but she was used to it. "Look at the way she has treated poor George Peabody!" she went on, indignantly. "Any girl who lets a man grow to care for her and then deliberately throws him over—well, I have my opinion of her!"

"All girls are not like you," said the young man, with general regret. "They—they would think it smart!"

"I can't imagine a girl being like that," protested the young woman, with lovely sadness. "It seems so unwomanly. I should think it would just haunt Clara, spoiling his life, you know. And, of course, she knew that he cared for her in spite of what she says."

The young man swallowed hard. "Is—it does a girl always know when a man likes her?" he asked. "When he hasn't told her, I mean?"

The young woman looked as impersonal as a judge. "Well, in most cases she does," she admitted. "That is, if he has been coming to see her for a long time and—and—oh, well, she generally knows. Of course, there are cases where she hasn't any idea, because the man is so careful not to give her a chance to think so. Of course, then she can't be blamed."

I'm Glad You're the Only One.

"No, of course not," agreed the young man, looking downcast.

"I don't see how Clara had any excuse, though," went on the young woman. "George had been coming to see her regularly for a year and a half and taking her everywhere and bringing her things!"

The young man glanced hopefully at the large box of candy the young woman had had the pleasure of opening since his arrival that evening.

"That's just about as long as I've been coming to see you, isn't it?" he asked, daringly.

"Why, I believe it is," said the young woman in apparent surprise. "And she had given him every reason to hope. Just letting him come so often and wasting so much time on him was enough to give any man the right to think she cared about him."

The young man in the new suit looked as if a brand-new illuminating fact had dawned on him. "That—that certainly would make any man with sense think so," he asserted, crossing one knee over the other.

"But, as I said, Clara is so selfish," sighed the young woman. "All she thinks about is herself. Surely it was a shame for her not to consider George's feelings in the matter at all. A girl of real worth would, I can tell you. She would have managed to send him away long before he reached the point of asking her to marry him. She would have spared him that! But she just wanted the fun of refusing him! Now, I call that simply wicked!"

The young man crossed the other knee. "I wish all girls were like you," he began, huskily. "No, I mean I'm glad you're the only one—I think you are simply an angel, Sadie, and if you would think about marrying me I'd be the happiest—"

"Oh, Henry!" fluttered the young woman. "This is so unexpected—I hadn't any idea—you've upset me so! But I'll say yes!"—Chicago Daily News.

Shell Started English Village.

The little Sussex fishing village of Selsey, famous for its lobsters, and lying on the south coast a few miles from Chichester, had a startling experience recently. A shell from a warship in the channel whistled over the houses and falling in a meadow just beyond the limits of the village with a loud explosion started all the inhabitants. The projectile came to the ground within 100 yards of the Fishermen's Joy inn. Mr. H. A. Smith, brother of the innkeeper, was thrown down by the concussion. The shell in exploding plowed the earth to a depth of five or six feet over a space of nine or ten yards, and became embedded in the soil.

Wasting His Time.

"Yeh," said Tommy Tuff, "our Sunday school teacher's got sense. She's smarter than mom is."

"Indeed?" remarked Aunt Janes. "So you believe in her, eh?"

"Sure. Me an' her thinks alike. She sez Sunday school don't do me no good at all!"—Philadelphia Press.

Woman's Chief Need.

One reason why the average woman wears out and grows old and plain is that, through a mistaken idea of duty she lays out for herself at the beginning of married life a scheme of duty of which every hour is filled with work, says a correspondent. This she follows religiously for years, feeling that she has done her duty. She, however, soon becomes merely a machine. Can any woman keep brightness, originality of thought, or even good looks, with such a life? And, without those things, how can she keep her husband and children full of loving admiration?

Correspondence

FOXPORT.

Mrs. John Carpenter is quite ill with fever. Charles Lawrence of Bernard was here this week.

Frank Lightner visited friends at Tollesboro last Sunday.

Hiram Humphries is visiting relatives at Ringo's Mills.

Mrs. William Stamper and Miss Myrta Pettit are on the sick list.

Miss Lottie Stamm of Cincinnati is the guest of relatives here.

Mr. W. H. Means of your city was a business visitor here last week.

'Squire Million and wife visited their son, Sam and family, at Goddard last Sunday.

John Fannin, wife and little son, Guy, of Valley, Lewis county, are visiting relatives here.

Clyde Carpenter came in from New Castle, Ind., last week. He is suffering very much with bone felon.

Mrs. W. G. Martin and daughter, Miss Dora, left Wednesday to visit Otto Carpenter at Muncie, Ind.

Died, at her home at Beechburg on May 22d, Mrs. Hulda McKee, aged about 60 years. Interment the following day at Pea Ridge Cemetery. She was a sister of Mrs. William Stammer and L. S. Bare of this place.

Mr and Mrs. Charles Anderson and children of Lancaster, Ky., are visiting his sister, Mrs. J. S. Bowman.

What a nice memorial paper our LEDGER of the 30th ult. was. We for one were well pleased with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Gitzendorfer and little daughter of Cincinnati are visiting her parents at this place.

Quite a windstorm visited this locality on Tuesday of last week. But no hail as was reported down in below.

Married at Danville, Ill., on May 25th Miss Allie Waddell, formerly of this place to Mr. Daniel McCray of Decatur, Ill.

Tully Humphries of Goddard, died last week of consumption. He was the nephew of Mrs. S. M. Million and G. W. Humphries of this place.

Children's Day exercises will be held at the Baptist Church here the 9th and at the Christian Church on the 16th inst. At each Church the exercises will be at night.

Will Collins had the misfortune to get bitten by a mad dog on May 25th. He had gone to Mr. G. W. Gash's house together with Harve Miller, and he was watching the dog when it jumped and bit him through the foot and about the same time Miller shot and killed the dog. Collins went at once to Rectorville to the home of Messrs. Lee and had a madstone applied to his foot which adhered for four hours. He is getting along nicely now.

BOOGS.

Mrs. James Ruark of Firebrick is visiting relatives here.

The hailstorm last week broke a good many windowpanes in Ebenezer Church.

Prof. R. Edwin Boggs and family are visiting relatives near Georgetown, Ky.

Rev. J. M. Evans of Maysville will preach at Ebenezer Presbyterian Church next Sunday.

Children's Day at Ebenezer was quite a success, notwithstanding the inclement weather.

INTEREST MONEY!

Is the easiest money you can possibly earn, and if you have any surplus and do not get interest on it you alone are to blame. We paid $2,027.52 to our depositors on their Savings Deposits last year. It costs you nothing to open an account with us, and we will take your account, large or small, with equal pleasure.

"LIVES OF GREAT MEN ALL REMIND US."

The story of how Marshall Field amassed his great fortune may be told in a few words. He had something to sell and advertised it.

The long continued cold weather has caused us to make a Reduction on All Our Clothing of 10 Per Cent.

This includes every garment in the house for men, young men, boys and children, all our celebrated Hart, Schaffner & Marx clothes for men and young men. Our Ederheimer, Stein & Co., for boys and children are marked in this reduction sale. If you have ever worn either of these makes you will know they have no superiors; if you have not, try them and then you will know.

We are young in the shoe business, and we are selling most of the real good ones, for the reason we have none but the best to offer.
